

MEET the TEACHER

Johnna McBroom

about me...

This is my fourth year teaching and my fourth year at CCDC, where I work as a Daycare Teacher. I love watching children grow and seeing their little minds figure out the world around them. My students would probably describe me as silly, fun, and caring, and I enjoy making learning exciting while helping children feel calm, confident, and safe.

Outside of school, I love exploring Michigan's Upper Peninsula, fishing, hiking, and spending time with my fiancé and our growing crew of pets, including four frogs, two dogs, and a cat. I also enjoy searching for interesting bugs, mushrooms, and plants on my outdoor adventures. Above all, I hope every child remembers my classroom for the fun, the cool pets I brought to visit, and our bug themed decor.
