

MEET the TEACHER

Alyssa Walter

about me...

This is my third year teaching and my second year at CCDC, where I am the Lead Teacher in the Toddler Room. I love watching children grow, learn, and discover new things every day. My students would probably describe me as fun, nice, and caring, and I enjoy building strong, loving relationships with each child in my classroom. I actually attended CCDC as a child, which makes teaching here especially meaningful. Outside of school, I love spending time with my family and pets, going on walks, making crafts, camping, and creating glass art. Above all, I hope every child remembers feeling safe, cared for, and excited to come to school each day.
